Interior Designer Kira Krümm understands the expectations synonymous with a prominent lifestyle. Whether decorating an investment property or designing your new home Kira Krümm can transform any space into a showcase of distinction. "The design process requires critical thinking and artistic vision. From concept to completion I will orchestrate every detail. I coordinate the project, hire the contractors and oversee the entire process. My clients seek style and sophistication. They want to spend their time pursuing their own interests, leaving their interior project in the hands of a talented design professional," says Krümm. Creating unique environments that are truly customized and artistically planned is her company's top priority. Concentrating on high-end sophistication, she specializes in the
